POSSUM POINT PLAYERS PRESENTS: GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER

"Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" is presented through special arrangement with Playscripts, Inc. The play is an adaptation of the ground breaking 1960's movie starring Katherine Hepburn, Spencer Tracy and Sidney Poitier. Despite the subject matter of interracial marriage, that was still shocking in the 1960's, the play's relevance in today's society is still undeniable. According to the author "the racial issues the piece touches are still very much alive and relevant for today." This play is sensitive, funny, challenging and important. Performances begin on Friday, January 31, 2020 at 7:30 pm. Visit <http://possumpointplayers.org/> for showtimes.

CHRISTMAS TREE RECYCLING

It's time to start dismantling all those holiday decorations, so why not think about recycling that live Christmas tree? People who have to deal with the parade of pine needles can take advantage of Delaware's yard waste recycling sites or curbside recycling to end the decade on an environmentally beneficial note. Delaware's state parks locations no longer accept trees for recycling, but here are a few of the waste sites that do, some of which have fees: Blue Hen Organics – Frankford; DSWA Collection Stations – Bridgeville, Ellendale, Longneck, Frankford; DSWA Landfill – Georgetown; STI Landscape Solutions – Lewes; Stockley Materials – Lewes. Visit the Delaware state website for the full list of recycling sites - <https://news.delaware.gov/2017/01/05/christmas-tree-recycling-a-delaware-post-holiday-tradition-carries-on-across-the-state-for-201617/>
